excellence in classroom instruction, also seek to provide individual attention to Business Administration majors. Research, publications, and consulting also play an important role in faculty activities. The department’s faculty have published hundreds of articles in regional, national, and international journals. They are actively involved in numerous workshops, small business seminars, and professional development programs.

PROFESSION
The business administration curriculum provides a broad-based business background for Louisiana Tech students interested in a business career but who do not wish to specialize in a specific functional area. This program allows the student great flexibility in designing a program of study to meet specific career objectives. Students can develop a concentration in an area of business in which a major is not currently available or can distribute their electives across all areas of business. A bachelor of science in Business Administration is appropriate for entry-level positions in a broad range of businesses and provides an excellent background for students planning certain advanced degrees.

FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE
Financial assistance is available to qualified students through the LTU Division of Financial Aid (grants, loans, and work study programs). Scholarships are available through the LTU Admissions Office and the College of Business.

CURRICULUM
The Business Administration degree at Louisiana Tech University consists of 120 quarter hours, with 30 hours in each of the four years of study. The curriculum coursework involves an intensive study of business subjects (including numerous business elective opportunities), as well as, a broad background in the areas of liberal arts and science. Students interested in the area of International Business can easily utilize the Business Administration curricula. The senior-year discipline electives can be taken in International Finance, International Marketing, International Economics and more.

ACTIVITIES
There are several organizations within the College of Business available to all business students. These include the Beta Psi chapter of Delta Sigma Phi (international professional business fraternity), and the Business Student Organization (official student body organization of the College of Business). There is also a chapter of Beta Gamma Sigma (national scholastic honor society) and a chapter of Financial Management Association (FMA) established and open to all students regardless of declared major.

ABOUT THE UNIVERSITY
Louisiana Tech is a public, selective admissions university located in the rolling, piney hills of north-central Louisiana. The University is divided into five colleges and a Graduate School. The city of Ruston has been the home of Louisiana Tech since 1894 and provides excellent support to Tech’s nearly 11,000 students.
