

CURRICULA REVIEW POLICY

College of Business

The baccalaureate degree programs offered in the College of Business are regularly reviewed by the College's Undergraduate Policies and Assessment Committee. The Committee may either initiate or review recommendations for establishing or revising courses and curricula. In general, proposals for changes/additions in courses or curricula originate with the faculty of a department/discipline prior to being forwarded to the College-level committee.

Revisions to courses and curricula may be considered at any time; however, all undergraduate curricula are to be reviewed by the Undergraduate Policies and Assessment Committee every three (3) years. The academic years currently scheduled for the review process are: 2007-08, 2010-11, 2013-14.
