SELECTION AND REVIEW OF THE
GRADUATE FACULTY
College of Business

The Graduate Faculty of the College of Business is charged with designing, implementing, and maintaining the Graduate Program in the College of Business. These faculty members are part of the University Graduate Faculty and as stated in the Faculty & Staff Handbook:

The Graduate Faculty is charged with the responsibility for conducting and maintaining the graduate programs of the University. The Graduate Faculty introduces students into the current scholarly activities of the various disciplines. Therefore, the members of the Graduate Faculty should be active scholars. In most areas this means research programs which result in publication in refereed journals, proceedings, literary publications or scholarly monographs. Editing and refereeing for these journals is also scholarly activity of importance.

Further, members of the Graduate Faculty of the College must be both academically qualified and intellectually current in accordance with AACSB accreditation standards. To be considered academically qualified a faculty member must hold an appropriate doctorate in the area of their assignment or establish equivalency as provided by AACSB accreditation guidelines. Intellectual currency is maintained through scholarly achievement as evidenced by publications in scholarly/professional journals.

 Accordingly, the Graduate Faculty of the College of Business reviews the academic and professional credentials of candidates for Graduate Faculty status as an assessment and affirmation of the quality of the Graduate Program.
